IN MEMORY OF MRS. BELLE JONES

When the spirit of this estimable, Christian lady took its flight Tuesday morning the 19th inst., there was removed from the social walks of life a pure and spotless woman, one who was loved by a large circle of friends, and worshipped by four loving children and a devoted husband.

Born and reared in Columbia, testimony upon testimony could be given of her pure life here.

After her marriage to Mr. G. F. Jones she became a resident of Jamestown, where she lived happily and surrounded for more than twenty-five years.

She was a long sufferer, but no word of complaint ever fell from her lips. Born of Christian parents, H. G. and Eliza Atkins, she was taught to believe that God did all things for the best, and while her body was sorely afflicted she never lost faith in the God of all that is good, looking to Him for a brighter and peaceful home beyond the skies. As an evidence of her goodness the rearing of four high-minded, dutiful children is the best earthly evidence that she was diligent in her admonitions for good. It is said that she never received an angry word from one of them, and their conduct has been such as to require no words of reproof from her.

When friends separate, one going on a long journey, with the hope of meeting again, the skimming of the hand is a serious thing and the word "farewell" hard to say, but to take leave of a dear mother through the leaves of death that her spirit has gone to a better world, no pen can picture the anguish. No sadder words were ever written than "mother is dead," and it would take hearts of stone to not overflow with sorrow when such an affliction comes to their family.

The devotion of the bereaved husband and his four children to this wife and mother has never been surpassed, so watchful were they to see that every earthly wish was gratified.

Her children are all members of the church, and while it is impossible for them to ever see their mother again in the flesh, they can so live that when life's troubles are over they will meet her in that heavenly home where there is no sorrow and where separations are unknown.

The funeral services were conducted at Jamestown Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. Z. T. Williams, of the Christian church, who spoke in the tenderest sympathy of the life and character of this good woman.

In health she was an active church and temperance worker, a devoted Methodist and a zealous member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

To the husband, a life long friend, to the children, brothers and sisters, I tender my deepest sympathy.

J. E. MURRELL.

Tough on the Legislature.

A young gentleman of this county was engaged to a charming young girl in Tennessee, and just before the holidays was to pay her a visit. The day for the wedding was drawing near and the groom-elect thought he detected some kind of a trap in the eyes of the fair young thing, and right he was. She approached him one evening, just as the Western sun was setting in the Western part of the West, and looking up into his tender red eyes she said: "William, I have a secret and my conscience smites me until I have to tell you. It is this, Willie, my father served a term in the Tennessee State Prison. It was no fault of mine Willie, and do you still love me?" "Glad you brought up this confession business," said Willie. "I too, have a secret," and then he looked mad. "Mabel," Willie's white lips faltered, "my father served a term in the Kentucky Legislature," and Mabel, the mean thing, shook him, and he's now at home retelling those and causing—Vine Grove Herald.

"I bobbled into Mr. Blackstone's drug store," said Willie, "and he told me I had no faith in any medicine as I had failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm will cure you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." Sold by M. Craven.

Women Soldiers.

It is a common practice for men who know their business and do it to grow six months pigs to weigh 200 pounds a piece, and sell them at a better price per pound than if older. Pigs make fat and flesh at less cost during the first six months of their lives than ever after. Up to six months pigs rightly fed can almost be seen to grow from day to day.

When the young pigs are old enough they should be allowed the run of a pasture field where clover is pretty thick. Turn them loose in the field with the sow. If the field has plenty of good, fresh running water in it, and ample shade for the animals, they will do much better and not suffer drawbacks from the heat. The sow should be fed freely on milk sops with bran mixed in it. When the pigs are old enough let them eat with the mother. Liberal feeding of this mixture should not be turned into wasteful practice. Give only as much as they will eat up clean at a time. Feeding twice a day is better than heavy feeding once a day. With this bran, milk and clover ration the pigs can get along without any trouble for two months or more, and they will grow rapidly during the whole time. When they are two months old a little corn may be fed to them, give them about one ear a day along with the bran and buttermilk sops. The corn adds to their fat and strength, and the liberal feeding of clover keeps the system in excellent condition.

At the end of four months the pigs should be old enough to stand heavier and more headstrong, and it is well to substitute for the corn, bran and milk sops a diet of water and cornmeal softened with bran and mixed to the consistency of dough. Feed this to them twice a day and give them as much as they will eat up clean at a time. Then turn them loose in the clover field as before, and let them eat in addition all the grass that they will. Finally during the last month of their lives confine them in close but perfectly clean quarters and fatten them off with cornmeal and bran. Give them twice as much of the former as the latter, and let them eat liberally of the mixture. At the end of the six months they should be fine, fat pigs, weighing from 200 to 240 pounds each, and every pound will represent a good profit.

Gen. Steadman sent a certain Capt. Wild up to Rhea county, who very gallantly arrested the entire company, including the Captain, and brought them to Chattanooga. Where they were arranged before Gen. Steadman in his headquarters in what is now the local guard's armory. Here the young women were requested to take the oath of allegiance to the federal Government. Some of them were a trifle tardy, and Gen. Steadman was given more than one sample of Rhea county "sass," but when he finally threatened to send the entire company to Ohio the girls, urged by anxious relatives, all took the oath, and after dinner at the old Planter's House, and every pound will represent a good profit.

Poultry Tips.

Watch for hen lice on chicks—oil or grease the heads.
Never mail a rooster down. Make it as easy as possible to lift up.
Be ready for nested combs. If the combs are striped apply vaseline at once.
Paint the under side of the roosts with hard or other fat. Smear it on. The miles cant stand it.
We want to hear from parties who have fed oats in large quantities to hens. Ever know a death from this cause?

The so-called duality mixtures for hens is a small quantity of sulphate of iron dissolved in the drinking water. Some poultrymen believe that rusty nails are just as good.

The National Poultryman is commencing the various professions of the poultry tribe, gives the following: An old hen knocked a youngster down in the road in defense of her brood, it's father killed the miscreant, the owner burned his barn and horses, and a lynching mob was organized.

The old theory was that exercise was necessary for hens. Thus we were advised to throw the wide grain into the straw and make the hens scratch for it. People seem to think this theory was true because it ought to be. Experiments at the Utah experiment station show that the hens did rather better without this exercise.—Ex.

A Fireman's Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all going down. As I was about to give up, a bottle of Electric Bitters, after taking it, I felt as well as ever in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, vigor and strength from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by Dr. E. P. Smith. Price 50c.

Word Painting.

The following from the La Grange Graphic is one of the prettiest sermons ever printed in so few words: "I saw a dancing bubble upon the silvery surface of a restless river. For a moment it sparkled with golden light as it caught and held the sunshine glory, and I thought how beautiful it was. Then it went down. For a moment the river told where it had vanished, and then swept on without a ripple on its placid bosom. And I thought how like our lives was the bubble on the river. For a moment we sparkle in our tiny spheres, hope and toil and struggle, love and long and dream and then go down beneath the surface of ever. In a short time the tiny ripples we have caused die out, and the great river of humanity flows on undisturbed. So let us strive within our brief existence to reflect only the sunshine, in the clouds above us.

THREE GREAT SPEECHES.

Extracts from Bryan, Alford and Towne at the Columbus Banquet.

BYRON ON JEFFERSON.

"At this time, when the money changers are in absolute control of the Government and are shaping the nation's financial policy in their own interests, without regard for the welfare of the people at large, we need to recall Jefferson's scathing arraignment of those who demand the surrender to their hands of the sovereign functions of government."

"He pointed out that the safety of the people lay in a policy that would drive the banks out of the governing government."

"At this time, when corporate monopoly is fast extinguishing industrial independence, we need a revival of the Jeffersonian spirit which demands a government administered according to the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privilege to none."

"At this time, when commercialism is marring the conscience of the nation; when the worship of mammon is leading the people to ignore inalienable rights; when the ideals bought with blood and sacrifice are about to be bartered away for the specious and deceptive promises of empire—at this time, we need to have our faith in man as man and our love for man as brother rekindled by the memory of this mighty patriot, philosopher and Democrat, whose brain comprehended height and depth and breadth of government and whose heart embraced the human race."

ATTENTION TO THE GREAT.

"Attend one of the modern great political convention of either party, and see the hungry, self-seeking, trimming politicians that gather there. Some of them had indeed been in high office for many years. Look at their bloated eyes, their shriveled, wrinkled lips, their souls—watch them as they slip around through the political underbrush, and you will say to yourself, these men have thrown away their inheritance."

"Let me say here, my friends, if we never do anything more, we did the country a service in 1906 by bringing the Democratic party up out of the swamps and underbrush and taking a position in the sunlight on the highlands."

"We are not offering the young men officers, but we offer what is a thousand times greater than all the offices put together, and that is a career, an opportunity to work in the vanguard of mankind, to fight the battle of the world; an opportunity to help the man who is doing the world's work, to protect the children that are being robbed of their bread, to protect the weak from the greed of the strong."

"We offer no place on the hill, but we offer what is a thousand times greater and better, an opportunity to assist in lighting the bonfire of the poor, in the day when the hunger from the cheeks of toil and lifting the hopes of the sons of men."

TOWNE ON LINCOLN.

"Three cries mark the life of the republic. The first involved the origin of the Union and embraced the revolution and the era of uncertainty ending with the adoption of the Federal Constitution. This was the age of Jefferson, of Washington, of Adams, of Hamilton and their co-workers. The second involved the integrity of the Union and the preservation of cementation of the national life. This was the age of Lincoln. The third is now upon us, and it constitutes the supreme test of all. It is to decide whether this republic, strong enough to defy all external enemies, and sustained by the solidarity of national feeling and purpose, can now resist the disintegrating influences of conquest, before which all preceding great nations in history have fallen to the dust."

"This, fellow Democrats, is then the duty of the hour—to save the faith of our fathers, and with it the life of the nation; to defend the nation and the mission in the world. We are the true conservatives. We stand upon the ancient ways. We wear ourselves in the glorious emblems of the republic, blazoned with the legends of the Declaration of Independence and the guarantees of the constitution, invoking the benign shades of the heroes of our history, and the principles of equality and justice, principles of equality, liberty and self-government, which were enshrined in Jefferson, and exemplified by Jackson and exemplified by Abraham Lincoln."

Chinese Perversity.

The Chinaman shakes his own hand instead of yours.
He keeps out of step when walking with you.
He puts his hat on in salutation.
He whistles his boots instead of blacking them.
He rides with his heels in the stirrups instead of his toes.
His companion talks south.
His women folks are often seen in trousers, accompanied by men in gowns.
Often he throws away the fruit of the melon and eats the seeds.
He laughs on receiving bad news (this to deceive evil spirits).
His left hand is the place of honor.

He thinks it polite to ask your age and income.
He says west-north instead of northwest, and six-fourth instead of four-sixth.
His favorite present to a parent is a coffin.

Danger of Colds and Lagrippe.

The greatest danger from colds and lagrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have tried this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, who can conclusively state that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of lagrippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by M. Craven, who guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for lagrippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

Mrs. Lettie Fisher says: "I had nervous trouble for years, which at times completely prostrated me and made life not worth living. That decision of United States Circuit Court, the Republicans, icicles, to Democratic, a sweet melon.

The Republican candidates for county office are attacking the bushes in Russell county. The primary is the 6th of April and there are many aspirants. From what we learn there is no real bitterness, though in the County Judge's race there is seemingly a little unpleasantness.

The love of adventure, the hope of reward and the mania for seeing the world prompts many a noble youth to leave his home and join the army. Then he is only a tool, compelled often to do that which he honestly believes to be wrong, to fight and butcher a weaker people without stopping for mercy.

The U. S. Circuit Court reversed decision of the Federal Court in this State in the Lackey Election case. Last year when the Republicans were making such a howl about partisan courts and denouncing the Democratic party for the actions of some Judges of the Circuit Courts in this State, they were seeking to bring about the punishment of every Democrat who openly resisted their aggressive methods, and by this means profit in the election last fall. Accordingly, an indictment was found in the Federal Court against O. E. Lackey, of Middleboro, for bribing negro, colored men, men of African descent and not white men from voting in the State election in 1890. Mr. Lackey was arraigned before that bundle of purity—Judge Evans—and was convicted on the foregoing charge: "A violation of the 15th amendment to the Constitution," as they claimed. He was fined $1,000 and an imprisonment of several months also applied. Others were tried for similar offenses and convicted. At this juncture Democrats were informed throughout the State to stand off from the colored man in the scramble for votes and it did prevent Democrats from interfering with the afore-said voters. Now one of the highest Courts in the land decides that Lackey did not violate the 15th amendment and orders his immediate discharge. There is not a doubt about the correctness of this decision, for no one seeks to control, by money or otherwise, the suffrage of any voter on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. Money is presented to a voter because the voter places his suffrage on the market, and the Higher Court decides virtually that it is no greater sin for a Democrat to buy a vote than it is for a Republican. This decision eliminates the fear with Democrats for Federal prisons, and places them on equal footing with Republicans who buy the votes of colored people with impunity. It is no less crime to buy a white voter than it is to buy a colored voter, yet Republican purifiers attempted in this State to prosecute, and did prosecute Democrats for giving a negro a $5.00 bill to stay away from the polls and at the same time make no complaint when a white man received the tempting cash for his vote. This decision will cripple the expectations of a few Republican politicians in this State who sought to place a large percent of their floating element beyond the reach of Democrats—to hide them behind the 15th amendment and then enter the race in the scramble for supremacy with the white floaters. All floaters float alike, race, color or previous condition of servitude out of figure, and if a man offers his vote for sale—Democrat committing greater sin by buying than a Republican would commit.

In fact, the work accomplished of the Fifty-sixth Congress now about to close has an exceptionally large record. Aside from the Porto Rican and Hawaiian acts this Congress has passed a financial law establishing a permanent gold reserve of about $150,000,000, fixing the ratio between gold and silver, and reorganizing the bonding and the banking systems of the Treasury; reorganizing the United States army—a task of 100,000 men, reappointing the representation in Congress on the basis of the twelfth census, giving "free homes" on the Indian lands, providing for Government participation in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904, as well as many other measures of wide general importance.

Developments in the Chinese situation were rapid and important last Thursday. The Chinese Government issued an edict directing the infliction of the penalties demanded by the Powers. This edict, if made in good faith, will obviate the necessity of Field Marshal Von Waldersee's expedition, which had failed to obtain the sanction of several of the strongest Powers.

The Senate Committee on Military Affairs reported favorably last Thursday a bill to pay Confederate soldiers for horses taken from them by the Federal soldiers after the surrender at Appomattox. It is estimated that the claims amount to $20,000, $40,000 would go to citizens of Kentucky.

Danger of Colds and Lagrippe.

The greatest danger from colds and lagrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided.

Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of the danger usually. It will cure a cold or a tick of lagrippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by M. Craven, who guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for lagrippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

Subscription price for the WEEKLY ENQUIRER (including postage) is only $1.00 per year. Ten copies sent for $10.00. For particulars apply to THE ENQUIRER, Columbia, Ky.
